OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How to Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head or inflamed membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up and miserable. Relief is sure.

Beware of Cheap Substitutes. In these days of keen competition it is important that the public should see that they get Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and not take substitutes sold for the sake of extra profit. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has stood the test and been approved for more than forty years. For sale by all dealers.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TO HAVE NATION WIDE PREACHING MISSION

SERVICES AT GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH BEGIN NOVEMBER 28

REV. R. M. MARSHALL

Of Clemson College Will Do Preaching in Anderson—Rev. J. H. Gibboney to Greenwood.

At the last session of the general convention of the Episcopal church, a committee was appointed to formulate plans for the conducting of a preaching mission throughout the United States. After many months of work this committee has succeeded in making complete arrangements for the holding of such a mission in practically every parish in this country. The time generally appointed was the advent season which begins this year with Sunday, November 28th. Bishop Guerry has announced to his clergy that every parish in the diocese of South Carolina will have a mission during this season. For this occasion the rector of Grace church has secured the services of the Rev. R. Maynard Marshall of Clemson college, who will conduct the mission in Grace church for one week beginning on Monday, November 29th. The principal service will be a preaching service each evening of the week. The purpose of this mission is to present the call of Christ and His church to the community, and to deepen the spirituality and zeal of all His people. A fuller account of the services will appear in this paper later. To all these services the public is cordially invited.

The Rev. J. Haller Gibboney will go to Greenwood right after the mission is finished here for the purpose of preaching the mission in that place.

AT THE THEATRES

The Anderson. Elsie Janis in "Twas Ever Thus," a delightful photo comedy of the art of love making from the prehistoric down to the present day, will be presented by Bosworth Incorporated, at the Anderson theatre for Monday, November 13.

Elsie Janis impersonates three entirely different girls, a bare limbed belle of the Cave Dweller epoch, a refined daughter of the Boston aristocracy of 1850 and an up to the minute New York novelist of the present day. Her athletic vigor, as this first, her grace with the difficult crinolines of the second, and her style and charm as the third prove an infinite variety and delight to this extra-moneysworth program.

"The Prince of Pilsen." One of the chief reasons for the long continued popularity of Pixley and Laders' musical comedy, "The Prince of Pilsen," which comes to the Anderson theatre, Tuesday, November 23, is that it has not been allowed to deteriorate in any respect, but is kept level up to the standard of excellence, which is the final word in theatrical production. The numerous song hits in this production have an enduring grasp on public favor. "The Message of the Violet," "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "The Stein Song," with its ringing, swinging Heidelberg chorus, "The Song of the Cities," and "Pictures in Smoke" all have successfully contributed to this splendid entertainment. The company that will present this delightful musical comedy is headed by Jess Dandy, long identified with the role of Hans Wagner, the "Zimnaphel" brewer. In the supporting cast are found the names of Edward T. Mora; Earl McHaffie; Geo. Meyers; Mabel Harris; Irene Gault; Florence Hensley; Helen Fitzpatrick and Dorothy Delmore.

The orchestra always a feature in this production will be under the direction of Victor Clark.

Mr. Wilson and a Second Term. While the Democratic platform endorses the idea of one term for a president, Mr. Wilson himself has never had anything to say on the subject, other than that the matter is in the hands of the people. He has already shown that a party platform is not superior to the will being of the country, when he got congress to deal honestly with England in keeping a covenant on the matter of canal tolls. Mr. Bryan, who was not the party nominee, had a lot to say about this in the last campaign. Mr. Wilson in a letter to Congressman Palmer declared that he would not offer to succeed himself, but if the sentiment of the party was for him to be the choice, he would not decline. But he thought it improper for a president to build up a political machine by the use of patronage. He favors preferential primaries, even for the nomination for president.

It begins to appear now that Mr. Wilson will be the choice of the Democratic party and of the people of the United States. In some ways, Mr. Wilson is stronger than his party. On the sole issue of the tariff the party is set on trial, but Mr. Wilson has made good with his federal reserve banking law.

Since getting a new secretary of state Mr. Wilson's administration is also showing more of intelligence, readiness and dependability in its foreign policies. There is no doubt that Mr. Wilson will be the party nominee, and all the rawheads can't stop him. —Columbia Record

GAME SEASON OPENS TOMORROW MORNING

LOCAL HUNSMEN HAVE BEEN ANXIOUS TO SEE THIS DATE

LAWS NOW RIGID

And Violators Have Little Chance of Getting Away From Toils of the Law.

The game season opens tomorrow, November 15, and this date has long been looked forward to by members of local huntsmen. Tomorrow the hunter will take his gun down, fill his belt with shells and will start to the woods. He will not have to call the dog for dear old "Bob," has been waiting for this opportunity ever since the first little cool spell several weeks ago. There will not be many birds killed tomorrow, for most of the fellows will be out of practice and their excuse will be that they just went out to try the dogs.

Game laws are now so that there is little chance for the violator to go unpunished. It is understood that attorneys have signified their willingness to prosecute violators of the game laws without fees and this will help a great deal in the prosecutions.

The law framed in February, 1909, by the general assembly did not change conditions for Anderson county, but in Oconee county the date of the opening of the season was advanced from the 15th of October to the 1st of November.

The substance of the statute is that it shall be unlawful to hunt partridges between the 1st day of March and the 15th of November, or doves between the 15th of March and the 15th of August. Anyone violating this law will upon conviction be fined $10 for each bird killed, or imprisoned for one day for each dollar fined. Any bird killed in violation of the law shall be confiscated and sold to the highest bidder, and the proceeds transmitted to the state treasurer to the credit of the game protection fund.

It is unlawful to keep any game in cold storage or refrigerators, except in private dwellings.

An interesting section of the law is where it is unlawful for any person to kill more than 25 partridges or doves during any one day in season. Sentence of $25 or imprisonment for 30 days is the penalty for violation of the statute. The law also prohibits the buying or selling of game. Provision is also made for the shooting of the wild turkey, quail, woodcock and deer, but since game of this kind is not found in this section of the state, the law would not be of interest, locally. The sentences to be imposed for violation of the game laws are so arranged that cases come within the jurisdiction of the magistrates; and justice will therefore be easier had.

The hunting laws have given the general assembly considerable thought for some years. An effort has been made to so legislate that sportsmen may secure the maximum amount of pleasure, consistent with the preserving of the species in sufficient abundance. Frequent revision in the law has made this a somewhat difficult task. But now that suitable laws have been framed, a strict enforcement of the game will have to be insisted upon in order that the statute may not dwindle into a meaningless jumble of words.

From all reports, game is more plentiful in Anderson county than last year. The partridges are said to be more numerous than in several years, while doves are also present in large numbers. Practically no squirrels are to be found in the immediate vicinity of Anderson, but it is said that after one goes some miles in the more sparsely inhabited sections of the county, the little climbers are to be found.

GIRLS! HAVE WAVY, THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Save your hair! Double its beauty in a few moments—try this!

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome, it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flinch, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

Philadelphia Magnate Dead.

P. A. B. Widener.

Peter A. B. Widener, strongest financial power in Philadelphia, a man, is dead in his eighty-first year. Mr. Widener, who began life as a humble butcher, was a member of that street railroad combination made up of William C. Whitney and Thomas F. Ryan of New York, and W. L. Elkins, Thomas Dolan, and himself of Philadelphia, which controlled the street railway systems in Philadelphia, New York and other cities. This was the greatest combination of street railroad men the United States has yet produced. Each made a fortune, and Widener died worth $60,000,000. He spent large sums on foreign pictures, buying more of them than any other American millionaire except J. P. Morgan, it is said.

An Unfit Companion. Mrs. Atherton had tried to impress upon her young son, Eugene, that he should play only with the good boys.

"Mother," said Eugene, as he came in one day, "you don't want me to play with wicked boys, do you?"

"No, indeed," said the mother, pleased that her son had remembered her teachings. "Well, if one boy kicks another little boy, isn't he wicked for him to kick back?"

"Yes, indeed, it is certainly very wicked," was the mother's reply. "Then I don't play with Richard Whitney any more," said Eugene.

"He's too wicked," I kicked him this morning and he kicked me back." —Chicago Journal.

GREAT CELEBRATION AT CHARLESTON

December 13th to 17th, 1915

The Southern Commercial Congress will be held at Charleston December 13th to 17th, 1915. This is an Association of prominent business men from all over the South and meetings are held each year for the purpose of discussing business welfare, both of the manufacturer and of the farmer. Last year the Congress was held at Oklahoma City and the year before at Mobile. This year the meeting is to be held at Charleston and very many men of prominent business, social and public life have already accepted invitations to be present. At least four members of the Cabinet of the President of the United States will be present at the meeting.

A squadron of the Atlantic Fleet, Torpedo Boats, Submarines and Torpedo Boat Destroyers, as well as Dreadnaughts, will be in the Charleston Harbor, open for inspection of the public, December 14th and 15th, and visitors at this time will also have the pleasure of seeing a magnificent carnival.
